

Team ERC as a strong partner

Strong partnership:

Team ERC supports Triumph Germany Racing

The Triumph Germany Racing Team, active in the IDM Sportbike class with riders Oliver Svendsen and Anton Södergren, will now receive logistical and technical support from the ERC Team. The collaboration aims to further strengthen the team's sporting performance and promote sustainable development in professional motorcycle racing.

With the entry of the renowned motorsport brand ERC, Triumph Germany Racing will be professionally positioned in key areas such as logistics, technology, and structure. This partnership represents a significant step in the further development of the team, which is already impressing with strong performances in the current IDM season and leading the championship.

"The cooperation with ERC gives us the opportunity to pursue our sporting goals with even greater vigor," says Denis Hertrampf, Team Principal and Owner of Triumph Germany Racing. "This support enables us to continue growing professionally and strategically position our team for the future."

www.fi-ne.de

With a clear focus on quality, efficiency, and the development of young talent, the new partnership stands for sustainable success in motorsport. Together, we aim to set new standards and lay the foundation for long-term success – both nationally and internationally.

Many Thanks

Triumph Germany Racing Team

GO AHEAD

